In Lieu of Flowers

A memorial-giving card to tuck into a funeral program or place at a service

1 A gift in loving memory

- ☐ Instead of flowers, you are invited to make a donation in loving memory to CancerExplained.org, a nonprofit cancer-education resource.
- ☐ Give online at cancerexplained.org/donate/in-memory — or point a phone camera at the code below.
- ☐ Every gift is made in your loved one's name, in whatever amount feels right.

2 What a memorial gift supports

- ☐ Free, plain-language explanations of cancer types, tests, and treatments — grounded in National Cancer Institute sources.
- ☐ Information in Spanish, and sections written just for kids and teens.
- ☐ Always free for patients, caregivers, and families: no ads, no sign-up, nothing to buy.

THE BOTTOM LINE

A memorial gift keeps a loved one's kindness moving through the world — in their name, the next family finds calm, plain-language answers for free.
